

DO IT LIKE DURHAM!

BLACK LIBERATION MONTH COMMUNITY DISCUSSION WITH TAKIYAH THOMPSON

Takiyah was the first of eight activists arrested in 2017 by Durham, N.C. police after organizing with the community to remove a racist confederate statue. Join us to hear from Takiyah along with local Chicago activists about how they are continuing to fight white supremacy, both symbolically and practically. Come share your community's struggles and discuss how we can work toward liberation together.
